Michael Mercier

Jerry Thomas

Michael Mercier is Founder and President of Screen Education. He produced Everybody's Cooking on Cincinnati's NPR station, WVXU, at 91.7 FM. He also produced and hosted In-Depth, a business, technology, and politics interview show that aired on Bearcast, the University of Cincinnati's student-operated streaming radio station. He is a life-long spoken audiophile, and enjoys all manner of spoken audio content.

Jerry Thomas is a young entrepreneur that's done it all. A college dropout turned contractor with experience in general construction, IT, finance, sales, marketing, software development, and a foundation of knowledge in just about any topic, you better believe he knows the right questions to ask, and from a perspective that bridges the gap between the next generation and the last. What's the secret? "Listen up, figure it out, just do it, and maybe not in that order." Jerry hopes you take this advice and tune in to EmpowerU America podcast, lets learn more together and have some fun.'
